1. Claims 1-37 are presenting for examination.
2. Claims 8 & 22, recite the limitation "the number of concurrent sessions" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claims.
3. Claims 23-26, recite the limitation "the subscribers" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claims.
4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yuen (US 2002/0007349).
6. As to claims 1-12 & 28, Yuen teaches a method for providing conditional access to media content, the method comprising:
  - * receiving a request for the media content by a remote media rendering device (non-eBooks type device, see [0015], lines 1-3), the request received from a middleman server (internet server) connected to the media rendering device on a local network, see [0019];
  - * receiving a device ID (U.S. marker) associated with the remote media rendering device, see [0019], lines 1-3;

* verifying based on the received device ID whether the remote media rendering device is approved to receive the requested media content, see [0020], lines 1-3; and * granting the request if the remote media rendering device is approved to receive the requested media content, see [0020], lines 1-3.

In Summary the device will be granting access to the content if the device is approved to receive the content (The U.S. marker device will be granting access to the content of U.S. rights holder and the U.S. marker device will not granting access to the content of U.K. rights holder).

7. As to claims 13-27, 29-37, the claims are similar in scope to claims 1-12 & 28, and they are rejected under the same rationale.

Therefore, it can be seen from paragraphs 6-7 that Yuen anticipates claims 1-37.

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
